

Win

No Authoring

Title: Stress and Rhythm

Publisher: Sky Software House

Author: Don Friend

Machines: Windows

Level: All

Type: Pronunciation aid

Language: English

System Requirements: IBM
486/25MHz, 4MB RAM, VGA display
sound card,

Single user: £55.00

1-5 user licence: £70.00

5-25 users: £130.00

UK & EC add 17.5% VAT

Stress and Rhythm

An Interactive Pronunciation Program

This program comes from the makers of The Phonemic Alphabet in English, Similar Sounds and Word and Phrasal Stress.

It helps learners understand the changes that take place in spoken English,

STRESS & RHYTHM Stop About this Program

INTRODUCTION

In this program you are going to learn about how stress and rhythm influence the way we speak English. As you learn, you will be asked to test your comprehension skills and then to practise examples of the areas under focus. If you would like to work through the program step by step, click below :

→

If you wish to choose an area to practise, click on the area of your choice

Basic Rules of Stress Weak Forms Linking

Elision Assimilation Moving Stress Patterns

and has over 600 sound items that introduce the learner to the features of connected speech including choice of stress, rhythm, weak forms, linking, elision and assimilation.

The program takes the form of a step-by-tutorial with each language stage. It has interactive explanations with tasks to check your comprehension and lots of practice in the areas covered. It also contains a record your voice tool.

STRESS & RHYTHM Stop [Microphone] ← →

Look at the sentence below and put the words into the correct boxes by clicking on them & then clicking on the place where you want to put them.

The phone rang as we were arranging our next meeting

CONTENT WORDS STRUCTURE WORDS

phone rang as we arranging were

[ ] [ ]

Unlike a written sentence, which starts with a capital and ends with a full stop, a spoken sentence, is the space between two pauses.